Dear Sir or Madam.

1 I have written before on the Yucca Mountain Site. And I am still very opposed to this site, not just because of my property there. But because I can't see any reason to put Radioactive Waste, in an area of possible eruptions or Quakes. It make's no sence at all. And I am sure there's not gaurantee that it won't happen.

2 Another objection I have is the transporting of the waste from places so far away as your map inclosed shows. I believe it would be more safter to keep it where its at in smaller Quantie's than to put it all in one place. And the chance for a derailment or truck crash trying to move it from its current deposit sites. and the expence would be I am sure smaller.

Also the people who use the most don't want it stored in their areas and refuse to let this happen. So I hope you consider my point in your decision, If the water in this area is ever made unusable, its the only thing that Nevada must have. Other States can draw water from other resources.

Thank You
